Introduction

Welcome to the Gatehouse Awards Test of English (GATE) Assessment. This booklet aims to provide delivery centres with a comprehensive understanding of the GATE assessment, which tests English language proficiency across four key skills: speaking, listening, reading, and writing, at three separate CEFR (Common European Framework of Reference for Languages) levels: B1, B2 and C1.

The information contained within this document must be made available by centres to all members of staff involved with the administration, conduct and delivery of GATE. In addition, essential policies, procedures and forms can be found on the GA website: www.gatehouseawards.org

About Gatehouse Awards Ltd

Gatehouse Awards (GA) is a UK based Awarding Organisation regulated by Ofqual (Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation), specialising in English language assessment. GA offers a range of International ESOL qualifications and examinations in the UK and internationally.

GA are members of ALTE (Association of Language Testers in Europe), and EALTA (European Association for Language Testing and Assessment). We provide English language examinations which are valid, reliable, and conform to the highest international standards.

About the Gatehouse Awards Test of English (GATE)

The Gatehouse Awards Test of English (GATE) is designed to assess English language proficiency across four skills: speaking, listening, reading, and writing, focussing on communication and interaction skills. The exam is available outside of England and follows the following Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) levels: B1, B2, and C1.

The assessment is offered at three CEFR levels, each representing an increasing level of proficiency in the English language:

- GATE at B1 level assesses the ability to handle everyday situations and understand straightforward texts.
- GATE at B2 level indicates an intermediate level of proficiency and demonstrates the capacity to communicate effectively in a wide range of contexts.
- GATE at C1 level signifies an advanced level of proficiency, including the ability to understand complex texts and engage in complex conversations.

Gatehouse Awards Test of English Availability

The Gatehouse Awards Test of English assessments are available outside of England and are only offered in English.

They are available online and can be delivered in two different ways:

- Invigilated by a member of centre staff remotely.
- Invigilated by a member of centre staff in person at an approved GA examination centre's premises.

GATE assessments are available on demand.

If your organisation is not currently an approved GA centre, or you do not have approval to offer GATE assessments, please contact us:

Intended Candidature and Entry Requirements

GATE assessments test the speaking, listening, reading and writing skills of candidates whose first language is not English and who may:

- ✓ attend an English language course either in the UK or overseas; or
- ✓ are learning English as part of their school or college curriculum; or
- ✓ need English for their everyday or working life; or
- ✓ require an externally recognised certificate evidencing their level of proficiency in English; or
- ✓ are attending courses over a period of time and require a series of graded examinations which provide steps towards proficiency; or
- ✓ attend short courses in English, for example at summer schools.

GATE assessments are designed to complement general English language courses and are appropriate for anyone aged 14 or above. Centres should ensure that all candidates have the relevant general IT skills to be able to complete the online assessments.

There are no prior learning requirements for GATE. However, centres are expected to ensure that the qualification they offer to their candidates is appropriate to their age, ability and needs. For example, centres should not offer a candidate a qualification that is the same level as a similar English language qualification they have already attained.

Overview of the Descriptors of Competence at each Level

The following descriptors of competence are adapted from the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages: Learning, Teaching, Assessment.

GATE B1

The candidate:

- ✓ Can understand the main points of clear standard input on familiar matters regularly encountered in work, school, leisure, etc.
- ✓ Can deal with most situations likely to arise whilst travelling in an area where the language is spoken.
- ✓ Can produce simple connected text on topics which are familiar, or of personal interest.
- ✓ Can describe experiences and events, dreams, hopes & ambitions and briefly give reasons and explanations for opinions and plans.

GATE B2

The candidate:

- ✓ Can understand the main ideas of complex text on both concrete and abstract topics, including technical discussions in his/her field of specialisation.
- ✓ Can interact with a degree of fluency and spontaneity that makes regular interaction with native speakers quite possible without strain for either party.
- ✓ Can produce clear, detailed text on a wide range of subjects and explain a viewpoint on a topical issue giving the advantages and disadvantages of various options.

GATE C1

The candidate:

- ✓ Can understand a wide range of demanding, longer texts, and recognise implicit meaning.
- ✓ Can express him/herself fluently and spontaneously without much obvious searching for expressions.
- ✓ Can use language flexibly and effectively for social, academic and professional purposes.
- ✓ Can produce clear, well-structured, detailed text on complex subjects, showing controlled use of organisational patterns, connectors and cohesive devices.

Gatehouse Awards Test of English: Model of Assessment

The GATE assessments of listening, reading and writing are externally assessed via online assessment materials. These are externally set, issued, and assessed by GA. External moderation takes place to ensure high validity and reliability of the assessment decisions.

Listening, reading and writing assessments are invigilated and delivered under controlled conditions.

The GATE assessment of speaking is externally set by GA and delivered and assessed by a GATE approved examiner on the day of the assessment. All GATE examiners undertake full training with GA before being approved to deliver and assess GATE spoken exams. They are also subject to regular monitoring and standardisation to ensure the validity and reliability of the assessment decision.

All speaking assessments are audio recorded for quality assurance purposes. All four components of GATE are subject to moderation by GA's UK-based central team of moderators.

Assessment Materials

Assessment materials for the listening, reading and writing components are accessed directly by the candidates via the GA online examination portal on the day of the assessment.

Assessment materials for speaking, plus any other supporting documentation, are made available to the centre via the ARK (GA's candidate and examination management system), a minimum of one working day ahead of the scheduled examination session.

Language of Assessment

Gatehouse Awards Test of English assessments are available in the English language only. GA is committed to using language which is plain, clear, free from bias, and appropriate for candidates who are not native English users.

Use of Dictionaries

No dictionaries are permitted in any of the assessment components. This includes bi-lingual (translation) dictionaries, electronic dictionaries, or other electronic resources.

Recognition of Prior Learning

No recognition of prior learning will be applied for these assessments.

Sample Materials

Samples are available at:

<https://gatehouseawards.org/qualifications/gatehouse-awards-test-of-english/>

GATE Listening Assessment

The listening test is based solely on objectively scored questions (a combination of different types of multiple-choice questions). No negative marks will be awarded for incorrectly answered questions.

The benefits of this are that candidates are not required to write answers to tasks that are designed to test listening skills. The format of multiple-choice questions ensures that the marking is 100% objective. Additionally, as all questions are scored electronically, the scoring accuracy is also 100%.

The assessment format is the same across all levels: B1, B2 and C1, but the length of the listening input and the overall assessment time increases incrementally across the levels.

The minimum pass mark for the listening component is 50% of the total marks.

	Overview	Question format	Marks
Task 1	Candidates listen to four separate short recordings (two dialogues and two monologues). They can listen to each recording twice.	4 x multiple choice ABCDE questions with two correct answers each	1 mark per each correct answer 8 marks total
Task 2	Candidates listen to a longer dialogue. They can listen to the recording twice.	4 x multiple choice ABC with one correct answer each	2 marks per each correct answer 8 marks total
Task 3	Candidates listen to a longer monologue. They can listen to the recording twice.	4 x multiple choice ABC with one correct answer each	2 marks per each correct answer 8 marks total
Total marks per paper		24 marks
Total time allowed per level		B1: 20 minutes B2: 25 minutes C1: 30 minutes

GATE Reading Assessment

The reading test is based solely on objectively scored questions (a combination of different types of multiple-choice questions). No negative marks are awarded for incorrectly answered questions.

The benefits of this are that candidates are not required to write answers to tasks that are designed to test reading skills. The format of multiple-choice questions ensures that the marking is 100% objective. Additionally, as all questions are scored electronically, the scoring accuracy is also 100%.

The assessment format is the same across all levels: B1, B2 and C1, but the length of the reading input and the overall assessment time increases incrementally across the levels.

The minimum pass mark for the reading component is 50% of the total marks.

Reading Assessment Overview

	Overview	Question format	Marks
Task 1	Candidates read a short text with six words removed. They need to match the words to the gaps.	Multiple choice matching using 6 options (no distractors)	1 mark per each correct answer 6 marks total
Task 2	Candidates read a short text with six words removed. They need to match the words to the gaps.	Multiple choice matching using 6 options (no distractors)	1 mark per each correct answer 6 marks total
Approximate text length Tasks 1 and 2		B1: 150 words B2: 180 words C1: 220 words
Task 3	Candidates read a longer text.	6 x multiple choice ABC with one correct answer each	1 mark per each correct answer 6 marks total
Task 4	Candidates read a longer text.	6 x multiple choice ABC with one correct answer each	1 mark per each correct answer 6 marks total
Approximate text length Tasks 3 and 4		B1: 300 words B2: 350 words C1: 400 words
Total marks per paper		24 marks
Total time allowed per level		B1: 40 minutes B2: 45 minutes C1: 50 minutes

GATE Writing Assessment

The writing test consists of a combination of objective questions and an extended subjectively marked response. This test is marked by a GA examiner.

The minimum pass mark for the reading component is 50% of the total marks.

Writing Assessment Overview

	Overview	Task format	Marks
Task 1	Sentence transformations	Candidates complete eight sentences so that sentence B has the same meaning as sentence A. The candidates must use the words provided in brackets and use no more than 3 words in each gap at CEFR levels B1 and B2, and no more than 4 words in each gap at CEFR level C1. Example: A. It is necessary for you to study more to pass the exam. B. Youneed to study.... more to pass the exam. (NEED) Candidates should spend approximately 20 minutes on this task.	2 marks per each correct answer (partial marks available for transformations containing minor errors) 16 marks total
Task 2	Guided writing task	Candidates write a short composition on a given topic. The format of the composition changes with each CEFR level as outlined below. (see below for further level specific information)	20 marks total Marks are applied using a descriptive mark scheme (see below).

GATE Speaking Assessment

Assessment for the speaking test is internally assessed and subject to external moderation.

The assessment consists of a brief introductory task (not graded), and two further graded tasks.

The minimum pass mark for the speaking component is 50% of the total marks.

The candidates are graded using a descriptive mark scheme which covers the following categories, each of which is graded out of a maximum of 5 points:

- Overall achievement in Part 1
- Overall achievement in Part 2
- Grammar range and control
- Vocabulary range and control
- Pronunciation
- Fluency

The total number of marks available for the speaking is 24.

Speaking Assessment CEFR Level Specific Guidance

GATE B1
Introduction	This part is a warm-up and is not graded. Each candidate speaks about themselves for approximately 30 seconds. The purpose of this part is for the candidates to get used to each other's and the examiner's pronunciation.
Part 1	Individual turns	Each candidate is provided with an image and asked to describe the image in as much detail as possible. Each candidate speaks for up to two minutes, and the examiner can ask additional elicitation questions. Guide time: approximately 4 minutes.
Part 2	Interactive task	Both candidates are provided with a selection of six thematically related images. They are asked to talk together about a simple topic related to the images. Typically, the conversation involves expressing preferences and describing personal experiences. Guide time: approximately 3 minutes.
Overall assessment time		Approximately 10 minutes, including ID checks.

GATE B2
Introduction	This part is a warm-up and is not graded. Each candidate speaks about themselves for approximately 30 seconds. The purpose of this part is for the candidates to get used to each other's and the examiner's pronunciation.
Part 1	Individual turns	Each candidate is provided with an image and asked to talk about a situation or an experience from their own life which is in some way similar to the situation in the image. Each candidate speaks for up to two minutes, and the examiner can ask additional elicitation questions. Guide time: approximately 4 minutes.
Part 2	Interactive task	Both candidates are provided with a selection of six thematically related images. They are asked to discuss a topic or an idea related to the images. Typically, the conversation involves expressing opinions, giving examples, and comparing different options. Guide time: approximately 4 minutes.
Overall assessment time		Approximately 10 minutes, including ID checks.

GATE C1
Introduction	This part is a warm-up and is not graded. Each candidate speaks about themselves for approximately 30 seconds. The purpose of this part is for the candidates to get used to each other's and the examiner's pronunciation.
Part 1	Individual turns	Each candidate is provided with an image and asked to talk about what they think might have happened just before the situation shown in the picture and what might happen after. Each candidate speaks for up to two minutes, and the examiner can ask additional elicitation questions. Guide time: approximately 4 minutes in total.
Part 2	Interactive task	Both candidates are provided with a selection of six thematically related images. They are asked to discuss a topic or an idea related to the images. Typically, the conversation involves assessing different aspects of a certain idea, providing justifications, and comparing options and ideas. Guide time: approximately 5 minutes.
Overall assessment time		Approximately 10 minutes, including ID checks.

Teaching and Learning Requirements

Courses leading to the Gatehouse Awards Test of English (GATE) may consist of e-learning courses or classroom-based courses, or a blended option.

GA does not prescribe the use of any set course book, workbook or recorded materials for the GATE qualifications but expects that centres providing such courses should use relevant and up-to-date, high quality teaching materials which allow learners to apply their learning to real events and activities in everyday life.

There should be an emphasis upon providing learning opportunities which involve practical participation in activities involving English language skills, which reflect real life scenarios. Centres should develop an approach to teaching and learning that supports the practical nature of the GATE qualifications, which is inclusive of the principles of equality and diversity and the safeguarding of learners.

In addition, candidates should have access to suitably qualified and experienced teaching and assessment staff as well as technical support, where applicable. Where courses are provided, specialist staff, high quality learning materials and access to assessment opportunities are essential.

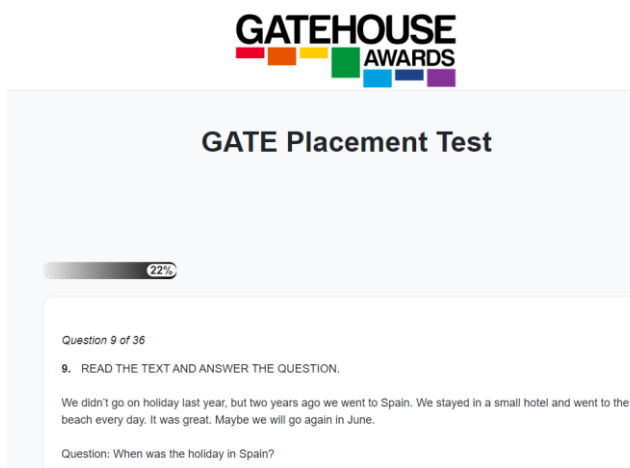

GATE English Language Placement Test

GA offers a completely free placement test for all centres and candidates. It is available at

<https://exams.gatehouseawards.org/gate-placement-test/>

It consists of 34 multiple choice questions based on grammar, vocabulary, English in use, reading and listening.

Why not get your students to take it today, so they can find out what CEFR level they are currently working at? The test provides instant results on the final page.

Suggested Preparation Resources

Because GATE assessments are designed to complement general English language courses, teachers can follow any course book which has been mapped to the appropriate CEFR Level when preparing their candidates for the test.

The tasks have been designed to require a minimal amount of 'exam preparedness'; in other words, the tasks should still be accessible to candidates who had no prior exposure to the exam format. However, we strongly recommend that teachers use the sample materials to prepare their learners for the assessments, as this will increase their confidence and improve their performance on the day of the exam.

Below you can find a selection of materials which can be used to support candidates preparing to take GATE assessments. It is not an exclusive list, and teachers can and should use a variety of resources.

EXTERNALLY PUBLISHED RESOURCES FOR ALL LEVELS

BBC

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/>

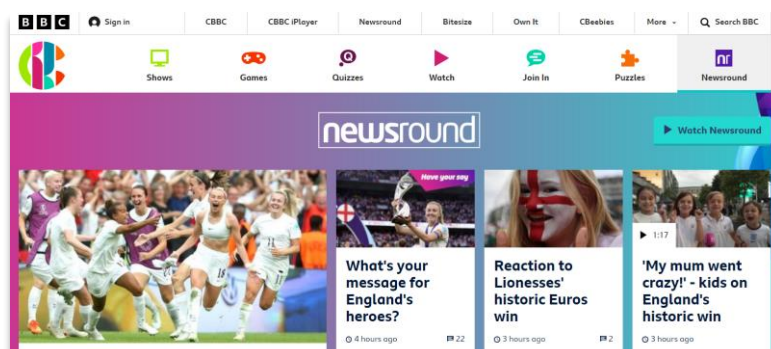

One of the best sources for authentic English language materials is the BBC (British Broadcasting Corporation).

Here you can find the latest news and sport headlines, weather, TV & radio highlights and much more. The content of the main website should be accessible for learners at levels of B2 and above.

BBC Newsround

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/newsround>

BBC also publish a website aimed at younger readers and listeners. It's carefully selected content should be of interest and accessible to students at CEFR levels A2 and above, and includes news, shows, quizzes, games and interactive forums and chats.

BBC Learning English

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/learningenglish/>

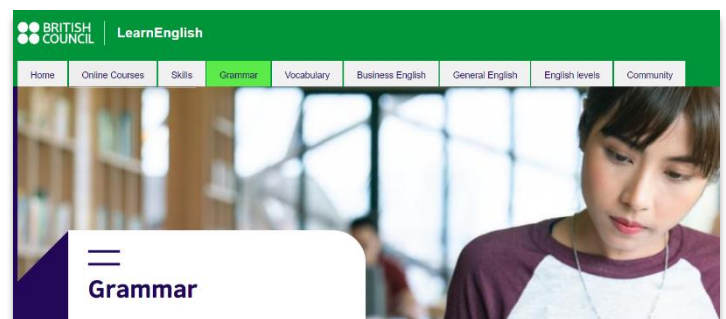

BBC also have their own section dedicated to learners of English, with separate areas for teachers and students, and sections devoted to grammar, vocabulary, and pronunciation.

British Council

<https://learnenglish.britishcouncil.org/>

British Council publishes a wide range of resources designed for adult language learners at all CEFR levels, as well as a section dedicated to Business English.

Breaking News English

<https://breakingnewsenglish.com/>

This website contains over 3 thousand free lessons based on English Language news, and designed for learners at all CEFR levels.

Natter and Ramble

<https://www.natterandramble.co.uk/>

Do your learners need some additional support with grammar and vocabulary before so they can enjoy a fluent conversation in English? This website contains a variety of useful resources.

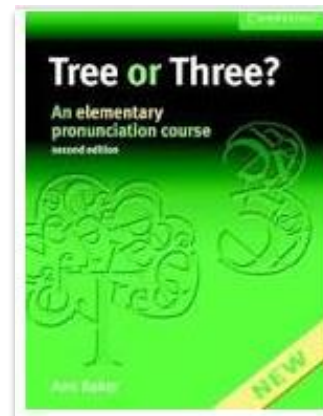

PRONUNCIATION

‘Tree or Three?’ by Ann Baker

This fully revised edition of the classic elementary pronunciation course.

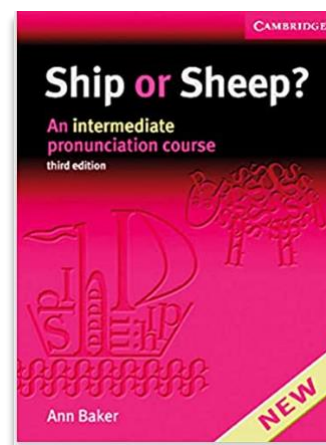

This resource provides systematic practice of English pronunciation, with an emphasis on minimal pairs, through a wide variety of interesting exercises and activities. It is accompanied by 3 Audio CDs and is suitable for both self-study and classroom use.

‘Ship or Sheep?’ by Ann Baker

This new edition of Ship or Sheep? Is an accessible intermediate-level pronunciation course in full colour for students of English.

This resource provides systematic practice of English pronunciation, with an emphasis on minimal pairs, through a wide variety of interesting exercises and activities. The course is suitable for classroom use or for self-study. It is accompanied by a set of 4 audio CDs.

‘English Pronunciation in Use’ series, by Jonathan Marks, Mark Hancock, Martin Hewings and Silvie Donna

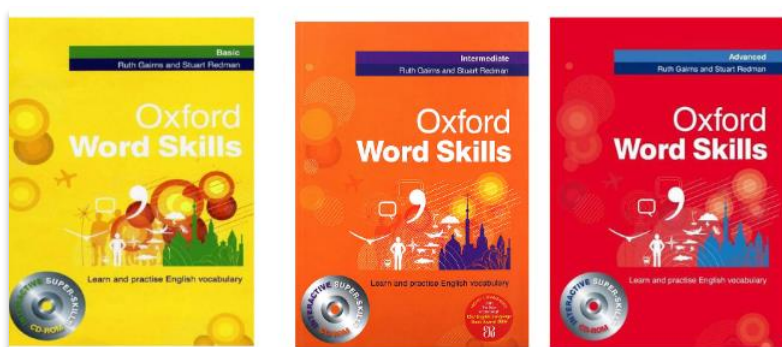

The three levels of English Pronunciation in Use cover all aspects of pronunciation in communication including word stress, connected speech and intonation. Covering elementary (A1-A2), intermediate (B1-B2) and advanced (C1-C2), each level includes free downloadable audio for additional listening and speaking practice.

VOCABULARY

Centre Approval Process

To offer the Gatehouse Awards Test of English, centres must hold Approved Centre status and approval to deliver one or more individual GATE level.

Full information about the approval criteria and how to apply can be found on the GA website.

Please note: arrangements outside the UK may vary from country to country. International centres should contact GA directly for further information.

Staff Resources

To conduct the GATE assessments, centres must nominate an examiner and an invigilator. This may be the same person, but should not be the candidate's teacher, relative, or anyone else from the centre who is known personally to the candidate other than via the centre's professional operations (please refer to the GA Conflict of Interest Policy and Procedure for more information).

The examiner is the member of staff who will conduct and mark the Speaking examination.

The invigilator is the member of staff who will oversee the listening, reading, and writing examinations (GATE listening, reading and writing examinations are marked by GA and centre staff acting as Invigilators should therefore NOT refer to themselves as examiners, markers or assessors).

Centres must ensure that any all personnel employed in the roles of examiner and invigilator meet the GA guidelines (see below) and that their details are provided to GA upon request.

The minimum information about the staff involved with the delivery and/or assessment of GATE includes:

- a current up to date CV
- copies of relevant qualification certificates
- a relevant and up to date CPD (Continuous Professional Development) record
- a completed Conflict of Interest declaration (where applicable)
- a record of completion of the initial and ongoing training and/or standardisation

Centres must also ensure that they have the management and administrative arrangements in place which are suitable to support the registration, qualification delivery and assessment of candidates.

Requirements for Examiners

Examiners must meet requirements in the following areas:

Qualifications and experience:

- A first degree (or equivalent)
- An appropriate language teaching qualification
- Recent, relevant experience of teaching English (or teaching in English)

English language level:

- A minimum of Level 2 English (e.g. GCSE A-C or Grade 4-9; CEFR C1 or above)
- Familiarity with CEFR levels B1, B2 and C1
- Ability to assess all aspects of candidate's performance in the speaking examination in line with GA published mark schemes

Personal qualities and skills:

- Ability to communicate effectively with candidates and elicit an appropriate language sample
- Ability to encourage candidates to interact naturally under examination conditions
- Commitment to training and on-going CPD (continuing professional development) in the field of English language assessment
- Ability to complete assessment records and examination documentation fully and accurately

Requirements for Invigilators

There are no specific qualifications required to become an invigilator, although attendance at a training session or participating in online training on the role prior to invigilating an exam session will be required.

The invigilator must be able to carry out invigilation duties to:

- ensure compliance with GA confidentiality requirements and relevant policies and procedures
- accurately report and record any irregularities or matters of concern which arise during the course of the exam session

Invigilators must:

- have internet access, intermediate IT skills and an email address
- be suitable to work within an education environment, taking into account any restrictions in place locally or by the centre and the candidates attending the centre (e.g., vulnerable adults, candidates under the age of 18, etc)

Candidate to Examiner / Invigilator Ratios

Speaking examinations at all levels are conducted with two candidates and the examiner present.

It is permitted for trainee examiners or centre internal quality assurance staff to be present in the examination session for training and quality assurance purposes. GA strongly recommends that the number of people present in the examination session is kept to a minimum. Any additional personnel must be declared on the Examination Report Form, and they must state their name at the appropriate point in the script.

The Listening, Reading and Writing online examinations conducted in centre: the minimum ratio of invigilators per candidates is 1:12. This means that one invigilator can supervise no more than 12 candidates.

The Listening, Reading and Writing online examinations conducted remotely: the minimum ratio of invigilators per candidates is 1:6. This means that one invigilator can supervise no more than 6 candidates.

The invigilator must have a means of communicating with another member of staff also trained in the invigilation procedure should their assistance be required in an emergency, without leaving the candidates unsupervised.

Regulations for Conducting Controlled Examinations

The GATE assessments must be delivered under controlled examination conditions. Centres must ensure that all staff involved in the delivery of GATE assessments are familiar with the following documents:

- GA Practical Guide to Conducting Remote Online Examinations
- GA Regulations for Conducting Remote Online Examinations

Centres must adhere to the invigilator and examiner instructions provided by GA throughout the examination session(s).

Instructions for Candidates

Candidate Instructions document should be provided to candidates at least one working day ahead of the scheduled examination session to ensure that candidates understand what to expect.

Instructions specific to each examination component appear on the first page of the online examination.

Conducting Speaking Examinations

The Speaking Examination Booklet provides full guidance for the conduct of the speaking tasks. An audio recording must be made as a record of the candidate's performance in these tasks.

Candidates are examined in pairs at the same CEFR levels.

Where there are an odd number of candidates in a given examination session, a 'dummy' candidate should participate. Examiners should clearly identify on the audio recording any candidate who is not being assessed in the task.

The examination times for the speaking component are guide times.

The examiner must complete the Speaking Assessment Record for each candidate.

Conducting Listening, Reading, and Writing Examinations

The Listening, Reading, and Writing examinations at all levels are conducted online.

The invigilator must complete the Examination Report Form for the session.

Equipment and Resource Requirements

Centres must ensure that the following resources are available:

- IT facilities to enable access to the GA website.
- Access to email
- Scanner and printer / photocopier (for online examinations delivered at the centre)
- Sufficient IT resources to enable back up of all audio recording of the Speaking examinations for at least until candidate results have been issued
- Secure storage facilities for the storage of examination materials, including assessment materials for the speaking component, prior to and immediately after an examination session

Centres and candidates should refer to the document Technology Requirements for GA Online Examinations for details of the specific hardware and software requirements.

Examination Materials

Materials for the Listening, Reading and Writing components are accessed only by candidates via the GA assessment portal at the time of the examination session.

The centre is responsible for downloading the following examination materials:

- Speaking Examination Booklet
- Speaking Examination Visual Prompts
- Examination Report Form (completed by the invigilator)
- Speaking Assessment Record (completed by the examiner)

Candidates must sign the Candidate Instructions and Declaration Form and return this document to the centre before the examination session.

Registering Candidates and Booking Examination Sessions

Candidates must be registered with GA for the level they wish to enter for. Examination sessions must be booked a minimum of 2 working days in advance of the examination date.

ID Requirements

Each GA centre must ensure that the candidate taking the GA examination is indeed the person they are claiming to be. All centres are therefore required to ensure that each candidate's original formal identification documents are checked and a copy submitted with completed examination materials. Centres must keep records of the candidate's registration details for a minimum of 2 years.

Access to Assessment (Reasonable Adjustments and Special Considerations)

GA examination materials are designed to be inclusive, non-discriminatory and as accessible as possible. GA adheres to these principles throughout the development of all qualifications and throughout the writing of assessment and examination materials. Please note the differing definitions of Reasonable Adjustment and a Special Consideration, as outlined in the GA Candidate Access Policy (available on the GA website).

Examination Re-sits

Candidates can re-sit the examinations.

Candidates may be re-entered for a level in any subsequent exam session. Where the candidate has not achieved one or more of the LRW units, all three units must be taken again.

Achievement in speaking can be carried forward only if the following two conditions are met:

- the speaking exam took place within the last 12 months AND
- the speaking exam took place at the same examination centre

Progression Opportunities

The GATE qualifications are designed so that candidates can progress from one level to the next as their skills develop. Candidates may progress onto higher level English programmes, vocational or other academic courses, or employment.

Record Keeping

After the examination session, the centre must collate the following records:

- Completed Speaking Assessment Record (one per candidate)
- Completed Examination Report Form (one per session)
- Scanned copy of the candidate's ID

These documents must be submitted to GA for the purpose of external moderation.

Centres must securely store the digital audio recordings. Audio recordings must be made available to GA upon request. They may be securely destroyed after a period of 1 year.

Any records of Reasonable Adjustments, Special Considerations and records containing candidate's personal details must be held in line with the relevant data protection and privacy legislation and regulations.

Enquiries and Appeals

GA operates an Appeals Policy and Procedure.

Candidates wishing to appeal against their GATE examination results should:

- follow their centre's internal appeals procedure, if the appeal relates to their Speaking test result. This may be escalated to GA, as required.
- follow GA's Appeals Policy, if the appeal relates to the Listening, Reading, and/or Writing test result(s).

Centres wishing to appeal against any decision or action which arises from external moderation activity should do so in line with the content of the GA Appeals Policy and Procedure.

Results and Certification

Centres must not release results to candidates prior to GA confirming the candidate's achievement. Results and electronic certificates are usually issued within 5 working days of GA receiving the assessment records for the session.

The qualification certificate will indicate both the title and the level at which the qualification is achieved. Certificates will only be issued to candidates who achieved all mandatory units.

Examination Observations & Visits to Centres

External quality assurance activities may involve observations of examination sessions, discussions with centre staff and, where appropriate, with candidates. These activities will focus on ensuring that the centre continues to meet the centre approval criteria and that:

- the management arrangements at the centre are sufficient
- staff and physical resources are in place and sufficient
- the centre has appropriate policies and procedures in place
- suitable arrangements are implemented to ensure the security of assessment materials
- the assessment and internal quality assurance arrangements are sufficient
- record keeping and administrative arrangements meet requirements
- any actions have been carried out by the centre

Through the above activities, GA will provide centres with support, advice and guidance relating to the delivery, assessment and quality assurance of the GATE assessments.

Additional support visits can be requested, for which there may be an additional charge.

Ongoing Support

There are a number of documents on the GA website that centres and candidates may find useful: www.gatehouseawards.org

The website is updated regularly with news, information about all GA qualifications, sample examination materials, updates on regulations and other important notices for centres and candidates.

Within the centre, a named Examinations Officer is responsible for ensuring that all information and documents provided to centre staff and candidates are correct and up to date.

GA must be kept up to date with contact details so centres can be provided with the best level of support and guidance. Contact details for GA are found on the GA website.

In addition, centres are assigned, at the time of approval, a designated Centre Administrator who is their primary point of contact for all aspects of service or support. Candidates should always speak to a member of staff at the centre for information relating to GA and these qualifications prior to approaching GA directly.
